

SHE WILL TALK POLITICS.

Mrs. Neville Has a Wonderful Voice and Will Take to the Stump.

Mrs. Sara Neville of New York has a voice that is powerful enough to reach any number of voters and a smile of the kind that is fascinating to the average male, and she proposes to try both of them on the citizens of New York state during the approaching gubernatorial campaign. Unlike most women who aspire to be public speakers, Mrs. Neville has no desire to vote. "A woman that is clever gets all the rights she is entitled to" is the suffrage plank in Mrs. Neville's platform. She has a powerful and musical voice, and when she was queen of the fairies in "Benamela," a big New York out of door performance, the 12,000 people in the amphitheater could hear her distinctly.

Chairman William Brookfield of the New York Republican state committee has promised to give Mrs. Neville a trial, and she is now hard at work on the tariff question. When she is fully primed with facts, she proposes to endeavor to oratorically hypnotize the voters. At first she will say what she is told to say, but later, when she has mastered the political situation, she will make speeches that are exclusively her own. If she is a success in New York state, she will stump the country for the Republican party during the next presidential campaign.

Mrs. Neville is a good looking woman of the brunette type, with a well rounded figure and a graceful, attractive presence. She was born in Worcester, Mass., was educated in the south and received her dramatic training in Europe and New York. She has always possessed an extraordinary voice, but systematic training has largely increased its volume and strength. For many years she exercised her voice for eight hours each day. Her enunciation is perfect, and she believes her dramatic training will enable her to present every pertinent fact with telling effect. She does not fear that her voice will break down, for the more she uses it the stronger it grows. With Mrs. Anna L. Diggs, Mrs. Mary E. Lease, Mrs. Marion Todd, Mrs. Helen M. Gougar, Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, Miss Anthony and Mrs. Neville in the field as stump speakers no one can truthfully say that woman is not getting into politics.

SHE PLEADED FOR THEIR LIVES.

Now Miss Wright Doubtless Wishes General Ezeta Had Not Spared His Enemies.

General Antonio Ezeta, the fugitive ex-vice president of Salvador, who recently arrived in San Francisco on board the United States ship Bennington, is in his present predicament, it is said, because Miss Ida Dent Wright, an American girl to whom he is engaged, prevailed upon him to spare the lives of men who are now thirsting for his blood. Until very recently General Ezeta and his brother Carlos were in complete control of Salvador. Carlos was president and Antonio vice president.

About a year ago, while Miss Wright was living in Salvador, General Rafael Gutierrez and others started a revolution to overthrow the Ezeta government. Gutierrez and nearly a score of other conspirators were captured and sentenced to death. The day they were sentenced Miss Wright became the betrothed of General Antonio Ezeta and pleaded so hard for the lives of the conspirators that they were set free. Now Ezeta is very sorry he listened to the fair one's pleadings, for Gutierrez is president of Salvador, is in complete control of the country and is endeavoring to have the United States surrender the fugitive vice president, who is charged with murder, arson, robbery, embezzlement and malfeasance in office. If he goes back to Salvador, he will be executed in short order by the men who owe their lives to his sweetheart's pleadings.

Miss Wright is about 20 years of age and a tall, handsome girl of the blond type. She belongs to an old Georgia family and is a very accomplished and intelligent young woman. She was educated in France, speaks French, Spanish, German and Italian fluently, and her soft southern accent is very fascinating. After leaving school about two years ago Miss Wright and her mother, Mrs. Marie Robinson Wright of Atlanta, made a tour of Europe and then visited La Libertad, Salvador, where she met General Ezeta. Both could talk Spanish when they met, and it was not long before the conversation turned to love. Their betrothal followed, and the marriage was to take place in October. When it was announced that General Ezeta had escaped to the Bennington, Miss Wright pleaded with the state department at Washington not to land her lover in Salvador, where he would be put to death. Her plea was successful, and Ezeta was brought to the United States.

TOO MUCH ORDER.

It Makes Home Life Just as Intolerable as a Lack of System.

A house in which there is no orderly routine is a very uncomfortable place, no doubt, but too much order may be equally disagreeable and wearing, the nerves of the family being cramped as were those of people who lived with H. Wilber's wife.

People to whom order is not the means to a desired end, but the end itself, give themselves and others a great deal of needless trouble. A chair or a book out of place distresses them. A blur on the window pane drives them to distraction, unless they can at once remove it. A meal slightly delayed beyond the appointed hour loses for them its savor.

Order is their fetish. In vain their friends beg them to be philosophical, to try elasticity as a sort of buffer against annoyances. They shake their heads wearily, and keep on fretting. And the fretting marks their foreheads and indents their lips and writes its record on their faces, while husbands and children sigh for a little cheerful happy-go-lucky disorder. The daughter of the over orderly mother is often, by the law of reaction, an absurdly unsystematic personage.—Harper's Bazar.

HOMEMADE BOOKLET.

As Pretty and Dainty as Any Purchased Article Could Be.

The little book shown in the accompanying illustration can be made at home, and will be as pretty and dainty as any purchased book could be, besides having the additional recommendation of being constructed with one's own fingers and stitches. The poem may be original or selected from Whittier or some other favorite poet, and may be written upon the typewriter or written in one's own handwriting. Heavy, unruled paper, with a rough surface should be chosen for the pages. The cover is celluloid, and may be of white or some delicate tint. It is perfectly plain on the edges, and has eyelet holes at the back, which extend through all the pages within. A ribbon passed into these holes forms all the "binding" needed, and is tied in a careless bow on the front cover. A dainty Christmas or birthday card is fastened to the celluloid with tiny bows of baby ribbon at alternate corners. If one is gifted with his brush or pen, the card is doubly pretty if ornamented with an original design—a bit of landscape in sepia or water colors, or a cluster of flowers dropped upon it. In this case the greeting will be in original lettering—"Merry Christmas" or

A PRETTY PRESENT.

"A Glad Birthday" or the beautiful German word, "Gluck," for well wishing. In the latter case, to follow out the idea and give it double significance, the capital G may be a horseshoe, and the following letters constructed of horseshoe nails, as shown in the illustration.—American Agriculturist.

The Study of Manners.

An eastern female college has introduced into its curriculum a systematic study of manners. It is to be hoped that other institutions of learning—especially public schools—will take up a like course. As a nation we are sadly deficient in this respect. In attempting to avoid elaborate and often absurd ceremonies of European polite life, we have gone to the opposite extreme, and, as a consequence, sometimes Americans of the most refined nature appear rude and uncouth. We need to know more of the conventionalities of elegant society, without going into the final questions of etiquette that are bothersome and unimportant. Teach our young men and women the politeness that comes from a gentle heart and a delicate perception.—Womankind.

Changed by Kindness.

"We were married thirty-seven years," a man said who had lost his wife, "and in all that time she never gave me a cross word. But I shall never forget the first time I scolded her. One morning when we had been married about two years, I found a button off my shirt. I threw the garment at her and said, in a rough voice: 'Sew a button on.' She got a button, husband, I had a great deal to do yesterday and I forgot it, but it shall never happen again.' Her gentle words almost broke my heart. I could have gone down on my knees to ask her forgiveness. She made a different man of me, and the world has been a different place since she died."

Philosophy of Clothes.

White clothing is cool because it reflects the heat of the sun; black clothing is warm because it absorbs both heat and light.

Notice to Contractors.

Seal proposals will be received by the School Board of Valencia, Kas., at the office of H. M. Hadley Architect Topeka, Kas., until 3 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, September 5th for furnishing the material and building a school house 2 1/2 miles south of Valencia, Kas. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the architect on and after Wednesday, Aug. 28th. Each bid must be accompanied with a certified check for $25 as a guarantee of good faith that the successful bidder will, at once, enter into contract and furnish a good and satisfactory bond. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Wm. Purnoy, Clerk.

MASONIC.

The Duty of a Master Mason to the Fraternity—Chips From the Temple.

Every Master Mason should belong to a lodge. In many jurisdictions he must. It is his duty to contribute to the support and maintenance of the fraternity, for the Great Light says, "If there be any among you who would not work, neither shall he eat." He may doubt or withdraw from one lodge to unite with another. He may apply to whatever lodge he pleases, at home or abroad, only he must belong to a lodge. He cannot remain from his lodge, but not from Freemasonry. The vows he has voluntarily assumed he cannot absolve himself from, nor can another do that which he cannot.

Illinois is going to follow the good example of the royal craft in New York and form a fraternal union of anointed high priests.

The triennial convocation of the general grand chapter, which was to have been held July 18, at Topeka, and which was postponed on account of the railroad strike, will be held Aug. 22 at Topeka.

The principal officers of a chapter in Pennsylvania in 1814 were known as first, second and third chiefs respectively. The present titles were adopted by the grand chapter in 1824.

Keep the membership clean. See that no unworthy person crosses the threshold of your lodge and if any such should manage by hypocrisy or misrepresentation to get inside let him know at once that a change of character or a change of relationship must be made.

The order of the Eastern Star can no longer be styled an infant, for here and there are celebrated the anniversaries that indicate it has reached its maturity.

Such scurrying through the degrees as is permitted in some Scotch lodges is a disgrace to an ancient and honorable fraternity.

To organize a lodge the charter members must be Master Masons, and they must convince their brethren of the lodge nearest to the point at which it is proposed to locate it that they are capable of conferring the degrees in a proper manner.

M. W. John Hodge of Lockport, grand master of Masons of the state of New York, has notified Secretary Booth of the Commercial Travelers' Home association that he will accept the latter's invitation to lay the cornerstone of the Travelers' home in Binghamton on Oct. 9.

A. and I. O. Knights of Malta.

The supreme commandery at its last session created the office of supreme instructor, and Supreme Commander Sir W. J. Hugh, M. D., has appointed Sir George H. Pierce, P. S. C., to fill that office.

Sir W. T. Folline, past supreme commander, has left Philadelphia to make his home in Los Angeles, Cal.

Sir Charles Gomer of Jordan commandery, 102, has been appointed deputy grand commander of the Twelfth Pennsylvania district.

Reports from organizers all over Pennsylvania indicate that there will be a large increase in the number of new commanderies as soon as business improves. Several large lists have been secured, but will not proceed with institution until better times have come.

Knights of the Golden Eagle.

In Philadelphia there are 50 castles, 9,083 members, an average of 114.

A reunion of the castles and commanderies of the Juniata valley will be held Sept. 6 at Altoona, Pa.

During the past year 51 castles were instituted, 48 being under the jurisdiction of grand castles.

At the recent session of the supreme castle the laws relative to the eligibility of women to membership in the ladies' branch of the order were changed so as to admit any white woman, thus removing the limitation hitherto placed upon membership requiring the applicant to be a relative of a Sir Knight in good standing.
